Florida Speaker Chris Sprowls Reappoints Representative Randy Fine to Education Commission of the States

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (February 3, 2021) — Today, Speaker of the Florida House of Representatives Chris Sprowls reappointed Representative Randy Fine to the Education Commission of the States.

“Representative Fine’s record for raising standards and accountability in Florida’s education system will serve him well on the Education Commission of the States,” said Speaker Sprowls. “Representative Fine will serve as a strong leader in this national effort to improve our schools, colleges and universities.”

The Education Commission of the States gathers and analyzes data concerning education needs and resources as well as encourages research in all aspects of education. The Commission was established over 50 years ago as an interstate compact on education policy.

Earlier this year, Representative Fine was appointed by Speaker Sprowls as Chairman of the Florida House of Representatives’ Subcommittee on PreK-12 Appropriations (where he served from 2016-2017) and as a member of the House Education and Employment Committee. In the previous Session, he served as Chairman of the Higher Education Appropriations Subcommittee and on the Education Committee. A champion for school choice, Representative Fine believes education is the great equalizer in American society and wants every parent to have the ability to choose the right school for their child.

Representative Fine authored and passed legislation to expand Holocaust education in Florida schools, appropriate security funding for Jewish Day Schools and hold school districts more accountable.
